The Chippewa Valley Youth Symphony hits the road!

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

EAU CLAIRE, WI—The Chippewa Valley Youth Symphony (CVYS) is hitting the road and sharing its love of music in performances at Hudson and New Richmond High Schools on Wednesday, March 16th. Student Musician, Nate Plass said, “The bus tour is a good recruiting method. A lot of people don’t know about the Youth Symphony, and it’s a very unique experience.”

The CVYS is making its first stop at Hudson High School to perform at 9:30 a.m. The CVYS will then perform at New Richmond High School at 11:30 a.m. The purpose of the tour is to inspire other student musicians to pursue their love of musical performance. Assistant Music Director Christine Bauman said of the bus tour, “I am looking forward to hearing our CVYS students share their talents with others.”

The Youth Symphony is a full string and wind orchestra under the direction of Dr. Peter Haberman. The orchestra is an auditioned group of young musicians in 7th-12th grade that have demonstrated the ability to perform at an advanced level. Students are exposed to the enrichment and challenge of performing with other serious and dedicated musicians.
